Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-10, drawn to organizing invoice information into categories and automatically preparing consolidated invoice for particular advertiser, classified in class 705, subclass 34.
- II. Claims 11-22, drawn to broker platform for negotiating with a presentation entity for purchase of opportunity, classified in class 705, subclass 14.
- III. Claim 23, drawn to delivering video data and tracking display of the video data, classified in class 725, subclass 1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II-III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination I has separate utility such as organizing invoice information into categories and preparing consolidated invoice for each advertiser. This separate use distinguishes the invention of group I from group, II-III, since the feature of organizing invoice information and preparing consolidated invoice is not limitation of those independently claimed inventions. Therefore the invention of group I is a separately useable subcombination. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions II and I, III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination II has separate utility such as storing ad presentation opportunities and negotiating with presentation entities for purchase of the opportunities. This separate use distinguishes the invention of group II from group, I, III since the feature of negotiating with presentation entities for purchase of the opportunities is not limitation of those independently claimed inventions. Therefore the invention of group II is a separately useable subcombination. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions III and I, II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination III has separate utility such as forwarding video data, confirming receipt of the video data, inserting the video data in a video data transmission etc,. This separate use distinguishes the invention of group III from group, I, II since those feature of forwarding video data, confirming receipt of the video data and inserting the video data into a video data transmission is not limitation of those independently claimed inventions. Therefore the invention of group III is a separately useable subcombination. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Yehdega Retta whose telephone number is (571) 272-6723. The examiner can normally be reached on 8-4:30.
